The shop continues to tick along very nicely and our new co-supervisor Tracey has settled in really quickly and is already doing a great job. If you haven't already met her she is in the shop all day Tuesday and again on Thursday and Friday mornings.

We have quite a few new lines this month including curry sauces and pastes, fresh pasta and pasta sauce, chilled puddings and some amazing cupcakes. We have now topped up on our popular Cawston sparkling drinks range and added a couple of new cold drinks for you to try - rose lemonade and a healthy carrot drink - and the Qcumber drinks are now back in stock. We have also added some new gluten-free cakes and snacks to our range and there are packs of mixed crisp-breads from Peter's Yard. You may have noticed that the baking section has been expanded and moved to a new area and we now have more baking products so you can make that perfect cake. We also have a new range of lovely greetings cards.

The Post Office now stocks a wide range of paper and both padded and "Post safe" super-strong polythene envelopes so whatever you post should reach its destination safely.

A top-end New Zealand Sauvignon Blanc for less than £7? Surely that must be a mistake! It isn't – but it is a WIGIG (when it's gone it's gone) offer so you had better rush in and grab a few bottles of our stunning Raupara (pronounced Ra-para if you want to show off) Springs Marlborough Sauvignon Blanc while you can. We are selling it for £6.95 - or you can get it from Oddbins for £13 a bottle (check it out). We also have an excellent new sparkling Pinot Grigio (which is made in exactly the same way as Prosecco) at the bargain price of £7.25.

With Easter just around the corner, look out for special offers and promotions as well as our regular offers and discounts. If you don't have time to pop into the shop, you can always check the latest offers on Face Book.

The usual thanks to all our volunteers and the usual plea for more people to sign up. We urgently need a few more people to learn how to 'lock up' so, if you would like to give it a go, please contact Celia, Jeanette or Tracey.

Happy Easter to one and all
